How we will use information about you

We will only use your personal information when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we will use your personal information in one or more of the following circumstances:

1. Where we need to perform the contract or agreement (Engagement Letter) we have entered into with a Client in order to carry out our Services.

3. Where we need to comply with a legal obligation.
4. Where you have provided your express consent by completing forms.

We may also use your personal information to protect your vital interests (or someone else's interests) but this is likely to be rare.

3. Where it is needed in the public interest.

Less commonly, we may process this type of information where it is needed in relation to legal proceedings or where it is needed to protect your vital interests (or someone else's vital interests) and you are not capable of giving your consent, or where you have already made the information public.

Automated decision-making

We do not envisage that any decisions will be taken about you using fully automated means, however we will notify you in writing if this position changes.

We only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions. Where possible contractual arrangements are in place or otherwise we rely on their own policies and procedures.

You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal information for direct marketing purposes.
- Request the restriction of processing of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of personal information about you, for example if you want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it.
- Request the transfer of your personal information to another party.

If you want to review, verify, correct or request erasure of your personal information, object to the processing of your personal data, or request that we transfer a copy of your personal information to another party, please contact the DPO in writing.

Please note that we may decline to comply with any request to delete or restrict the use of your information if we still require that information for any legal or contractual reasons.

Right to withdraw consent

In the limited circumstances where you may have provided your consent to the collection, processing and transfer of your personal information for a specific purpose, you have the right to withdraw your consent for that specific processing at any time. To withdraw your consent, please contact the DPO. Once we have received notification that you have withdrawn your consent, we will no longer process your information for the purpose or purposes you originally agreed to, unless we have another legitimate basis for doing so in law.

The withdrawal of consent shall not affect the lawfulness of processing for other reasons and based on other grounds where this is permitted under applicable law.
